Let's start with Indonesia, a country that offers so many adventures. It doesn't matter where I am; there are always new things to experience. Here, interactions with locals, learning more about the culture and the language. Indonesia is beautiful, the people are amazing and super friendly, and I love how 'easily' you can learn the Indonesian language to the point where you can have simple conversations with some people.

Going to Indonesia, Surabaya and ITS, was an experience where I learned a lot about myself and life in general. I made amazing friends and experiences I have had will stay with me for as long as possible, if not my entire life. I have been happy, been sad, I have laughed, and been stressed, but all these experiences have taught me lessons I will never forget.
