

Formation of Niobium Carbide Hard Layer on Orthopedic Surgical Tool Through Thermo-Reactive Diffusion Process

Funded by the Indonesia Endowment Fund for Education Agency, this three-year 62000 USD project aims to develop biocompatible material for implant purposes.

There are 3 master's students and 4 undergraduate students involved in this project.

